About our training & consultancy

Effective training can have a positive effect on your business: assisting with compliance, improving staff morale and providing better business efficiency and profitability.

Understanding that people learn in different ways, we use a wide variety of training methods, resources and high-quality learning materials. Additionally, our fully qualified trainers really know their subjects.

Training Options from HSF Training Ltd

Open Courses: all courses within this leaflet are open to anyone. Simply contact us to request a booking form or book through our website hsftraining.co.uk. As the safety of our students and trainers is of paramount importance, we have stringent COVID-19 controls in place.

In-house Courses: where several people require training, it may be more cost effective to have a course delivered at your premises at a time to suit you, allowing us to tailor the content to meet your business needs, whilst still meeting awarding body criteria.

We offer a range of other courses not listed in this booklet as in-house courses. (Maximum numbers may apply, dependent upon course and venue.)

Distance Learning: available on some courses, it is an ideal option for businesses where time away from the work place is an issue. Delegates work through exercises at their preferred pace and take the exam at our training facility on a date to suit their circumstances.

Remote Delivery: available on some courses, tuition is provided using Zoom, meaning delegates benefit from trainer delivery and interaction with classmates, whilst providing the reassurance of not mixing in groups and minimising the risk of disruption to learning by any restrictions on gatherings.

E-learning: ideal for businesses looking to reduce the amount of time which employees spend out of the business, we offer a wide range of good quality e-learning courses. We can also offer remote invigilation for some qualifications, meaning delegates can achieve accredited qualifications from the comfort of their own homes!

Consultancy

To complement our training, we also offer food safety and health & safety consultancy, covering everything from assistance with risk assessments to training and audit programme development.

All fees shown here include excellent, friendly training at our well-equipped venue in Sunderland, course notes/texts, examination entry fees (where applicable), refreshments and a certificate (usually electronic) for delegates who successfully complete course assessments.

Please note that due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, courses may be subject to change. We will, of course, do our best to minimise disruption to schedules, provide as much notice as possible of any amendments and, for courses where it is an option, offering alternative arrangements such as Zoom delivery or e learning with the option to sit an exam at a later date.
